Hewlett-Packard Set To Expand In West Andover

Hewlett-Packard Co. will expand their 1776 Minuteman Road, Andover site, this spring.

Two major operating groups will be housed in newly-constructed facilities.

The Medical Products Group will add a 178,000 sq. ft. two-story manufacturing building and an attached 22,000 sq. ft. single-story cafeteria/training building. These facilities will provide planned growth space to house employees from the Group's Waltham Division site at 175 Wyman St., Waltham, which has reached its maximum size and for the existing Andover Division. Approximately 300 employees will move into the new facilities from existing locations.

The Eastern Sales Region Group with offices, currently at 32 Hartwell Ave., Lexington, will construct an 83,000 sq. ft. two-story building to handle expansion needs for the Boston area. The building will be used as a customer training and business office facility. Current plans are for a small core of employees to transfer from Lexington to start up the new Eastern Region Andover facility.

The buildings are being designed by Shepley, Bulfinch, Richardson and Abbott, Inc., architects, One Court Street, Boston.

Construction is scheduled to begin on all buildings this Spring with completion of the Eastern Region buildings in the Spring of 1983 and the Medical Product Group's buildings in the Fall of 1983. At full employment Hewlett-Packard will have 1,900 employees at their Andover site.

Hewlett-Packard Co., headquartered in Palo Alto, Calif., is a leading manufacturer of precision electronic equipment used in measurement, computation and analysis. The company had sales of $3.6 billion in its 1981 fiscal year and employs approximately 67,000 people worldwide.

McQuade Confident Funds For Pump Station Will Be Available

Despite President Reagan's plans to phase out federal funding for projects like Andover's proposed new sewage pumping station, the Public Works director remains confident that federal money will be available for the local project.

DPW Director Robert McQuade plans to travel to Washington, D.C. in the spring to do a little lobbying for the $6 million project, he said this week, an idea approved by the selectmen a few months ago. McQuade is waiting for final plans and specifications for the pumping station to be completed before he leaves for the capital.

Both Congress and the president have approved an amendment to the federal Clean Air Act that would phase out $2.4 billion in Environmental Protection Agency grants over a five-year period, the director explained.

Andover's funding should still be safe, however, McQuade said. His trip to Washington — probably in the company of a selectman — is meant as added insurance.

Federal dollars are expected to cover 75 percent of the cost of replacing the existing Riverina Road station, and state money, 15 percent. The town will pick up the rest of the tab: annual town meeting will be asked to appropriate $1 million for the project, probably to be paid for with a bond issue.

Plans on the drawing board for several years now call for building a new pumping station to replace the aging Riverina Road facility, along with sewer and force main connections, and a new interceptor to the existing outfall sewer in Lawrence.

Casino Gambling Impact Studied By League

Andover League of Women Voters members will reach consensus next week on a state-wide study of the impact of legalized casino gambling on the cities and towns in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The regional study committee will present a series of identical units on Monday, Feb. 22, 7:30 p.m. at the home of Marion Nugent, 75 Meadow Lane, North Andover; Tuesday, Feb. 23, 9:15 a.m. at the home of Deborah Aikman, 4 Arcadia Road, Andover; Tuesday evening 7:30 p.m. at the Methuen Town Hall at the intersection of Routes 213 and 28 (a cable TV presentation); and Thursday, Feb. 25, at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Kerry Grogan, 29 Dascomb Road, Andover. Tuesday morning babysitting arrangements may be made by calling Ileen Conn.

Janet McLennan (Methuen), Diane Batai and Sarah Silvernail (North Andover), Linda Carpenter, Therese Reichert and Joyce and Willard Robinson (Andover) will present information on proposed legislation and the experiences in the states of Nevada and New Jersey. Members will consider the impact of a casino in their own community and how it would impact economic climate, social and environmental concerns and affect the municipal support services.

On a state-wide basis, they will consider enabling legislation proposals, number of casinos allowed, location and standards of operation, taxing level and distribution of revenue. Which body will be responsible for licensing, regulation and enforcement and how their costs are funded will be critical to the position reached.

Because the League operates on a study, consensus, support position and action model which begins with the local League, every member's input is important to subsequent action taken at the local, state or national level. Guests are invited as observers to all meetings. League membership is open to all of voting age.

Bar Group Offering Scholarships

Applications for three scholarships, sponsored by the Lawrence Bar Association, are now available.

The Bar Association is accepting applications for the Edward L. Lanigan Memorial Scholarship, the Allen J. Ash Memorial Scholarship and the Judge Joseph F. Bacigalupo Scholarship.

In 1981, $3,300.00 was awarded to law students from the Andover, Lawrence, North Andover, Methuen area through the Lawrence Bar Association. Grants are awarded on the basis of both academic merit and financial need.

Awards are presented at special ceremonies during the annual Law Day celebration in May.

The Lanigan Scholarship is awarded by the Bar Association in honor of one of its former presidents. The Ash Scholarships are funded by the estate of Allen J. Ash, administered by Max Goldstein, with trustees, Daniel Murphy and Nathaniel Rotford. The Bacigalupo Scholarship is made possible by a grant from the former presiding justice of the Lawrence District Court.

Applications are available from scholarship chairman, Atty. Peter J. Caruso, 316 Essex St., Lawrence, MA 01840. Applications must be filed by March 31.

Other members of the scholarship committee are Attys. Marie Walch Loughlin, Maurice S. Close, Robert J. O'Sullivan, Gary F. Ritter, Philip F. Sullivan, Lois Siegel and Jeffrey A. Kitaeff.

McGrail Will Continue In Administration

While the position of school building project coordinator has been cut from the school budget, the man holding that position will not be leaving the school system. Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert pointed out last week.

Richard McGrail, who left his post as East Junior High School principal to work on the $13.72 million project, will return to the school administration, Seifert said.

"Dr. McGrail will not be cut," the superintendent explained. "He will be with us next year. He is tenured as a principal, and he will be considered along with the other principals if we have to make cutbacks."

Seifert said that McGrail volunteered to participate in the building project, and took the coordinator's position with the understanding that he would return to the administration staff when the project was completed.

The School Committee cut the project coordinator's position from the fiscal '83 school budget last week as part of their efforts to trim the administration's recommended $14.9 million budget. At the completion of the first pass, the budget was down to roughly $14.5 million.

Talking About Pole Hill Over Tea

Will Ballardvale's Pole Hill be saved as permanent open space for townspeople to enjoy? Or will it be developed as a 69-home subdivision? The town and the hill's developer are "still talking" about that question, the town manager said this week.

Representatives of Arthur Kalogianis of T.D.J. Development Corp. and town officials are trying to negotiate a land swap, with 1981 town meeting's approval: Pole Hill for the "tea lots" off Woburn Street. Those talks were suspended a while back because no progress was being made, but were recently resumed.

Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony said the two sides are "still talking", with plans to meet again soon — a "promising" sign in itself, Mahony said.

The board of selectmen will discuss the matter in executive session Monday night, on what promises to be a light agenda for the board.

We've Plowed Through Our Snow Budget

During a season of almost weekly snowfalls, last week's snows ate up the last of this year's snow removal budget, Public Works Director Robert McQuade reported this week. If it snows again before spring — as it almost inevitably will — the DPW will have to dip into other accounts to come up with money for plowing, sanding and salting.

That will leave the department with

Boards Gear Up For Annual Town Meeting

Next week's town calendar is a crowded one, as Andover government gears up for annual town meeting in late April.

Monday night, the board of selectmen will convene at 7:30 p.m. at Town Hall for a regular meeting.

Tuesday night will find both the School Committee and the Planning Board in action. The schoolmen will meet at Shawsheen School to discuss next year's school budget, while the planners will meet at the theatre building with a typically varied agenda. Both meetings begin at 7:30.

And on Wednesday night, the Reuse Committee for Public Buildings will meet at 7:30 at Memorial Hall Library to continue their discussion of possible reuse of East Junior High and other municipal buildings.

ACT Auditions Set

The Andover Community Theatre in conjunction with the Department of Community Services will hold auditions for "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum," a musical comedy based on the Plays of Plautus. It tells the story of what happens when a wily slave, Pseudolus, contrives to obtain a fair virgin, Philia, for his master, Hero, in the free-wheeling Rome of 200 B.C. Here in the fresh guise of an original tale are the classics of slapstick, conniving slaves, overamorous young lovers, lecherous old men, domineering wives, seductive courtesans and bragging soldiers. Besides a cast of 30, the group will need a rehearsal pianist, four trumpet players and a bass or bass guitar. Tryouts will be held at West Elementary School on Beacon Street in Andover, Feb. 23, 24 and 25 at 7 p.m. Anyone interested in auditioning for the orchestra does not need to bring an instrument at this time. Further information can be obtained by contacting the Director, Tom Kirkman.

Andover Residents Head Bar Group

Two Andover men were elected to top positions in the Lawrence Bar Association at the annual meeting held in the Essex County Probate Court.

Atty. Maurice Schwartz, who lives at 7 Timothy Lane and practices from 30 Lawrence St., Lawrence, was named president; and Atty. Norman M. Shack, who lives at 12 Oriole Drive and practices at 420 Common St., Lawrence, was elected clerk.

Schwartz succeeds Atty. Andrew Shea, also of Andover, who will move to the executive committee.

On assuming the presidency, Schwartz, who is also a member of the Andover Democratic Town Committee, announced plans for a Bar Association outreach program aimed at developing closer relationships with the public.

"We are hoping to make the public aware of the

Refunds In The Mail

Commissioner L. Joyce Hampers of the Department of Revenue has good news for 69,981 Massachusetts taxpayers: Their income tax refunds are in the mail.

"This is the earliest date that such a large number of refunds has been sent to the taxpayers, demonstrating that they have been paying attention to our admonition that early filers of error-free returns get early refunds," she said.

Commissioner Hampers said the early filers have received $8,798,200.

"Our Division of Processing under Deputy Commissioner George Osganian and its Data Services Bureau under Chief A. Phyllis O'Halloran are geared to send out 100,000 refunds every week until the list is exhausted by June 30," she said.

At the same time, Commissioner Hampers pointed to an unexpected, large-scale problem in the renters' deduction claims on individual income tax returns.

Renters claiming the 50 percent deduction have not been filling in the forms properly which will result in delays of any refunds they have coming.

If they read the instructions and carry them out, they will have no problem. They must fill in the lines in the RD schedule and carry over the allowable deduction to Form 1, page 2, part 1, item 41b range of services available to the community," he said. He has appointed two new committees; one to handle public relations and the other to promote continuing legal education in Greater Lawrence.

Also elected were Atty. James M. McInnis, vice president, and Atty. J. Philip Arsenault. In addition to Shea, the executive committee will be composed of attorneys Thomas F. Caffrey, Carmine DiAdamo, David F. Bernardin, Debbie S. Bolan, Angelo R. Fischella and Robert J. O'Sullivan.

Mary Trombly DeFrancisco, Steven Feinberg, Angela Miragliotta, Brenda Beaton, Judith Nathanson, John Wessler and Mark Tay were welcomed as new members of the Lawrence Bar.

Named or continuing as trustees of the assistance fund are attorneys O'Sullivan, James H. Eaton III, Michael J. Gorham, Harold Morley and Thomas J. Burke.

DiAdamo will head the new continuing education committee which will aim to provide courses locally in various legal areas.

Marcia D. Brockelman and Peter Caruso will head a new public relations committee.

Chosen to chair the following committees were: David Bain, court liaison committee; Lois Siegel, membership committee; and Caruso, scholarship committee.

Serving on the nominating committee this year were Maurice Close (chairman), Bain, Bernardin, Brockelman, Michael W. Morris, Charles W. Trombly Sr. and John J. Willis Sr.

AFS Seeks Host Families For School Year

The Andover chapter of AFS (American Field Service) is currently seeking host families for foreign students whom the chapter would like to place in town starting in late summer of 1982 and running until late June 1983.

The students, usually high school seniors, would be spending the academic year at Andover High. The experience here in Andover is intended to provide the young man or woman with a good sense of American family life, with an appropriate part in an American school, and with an understanding of the local and regional areas as representative of American culture.

National AFS attempts to match host families with students having similar interests and personality traits. The advantages of family participation include the sharing of significant experiences with someone from another nation and culture, the stimulation of meeting a new personality and growing as a family together, the possibility of making life-long friendships and perhaps eventually visiting the student's own country. The students coming to the U.S. have given evidence of talents and personal traits that will enable them to contribute to family-life and share their own experiences with those outside the family.

Volleyball Easter Seals Benefit

Century 21 has announced that it is sponsoring a Volleyball Marathon for the benefit of the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society on March 6 and 7 in various tennis and racquetball clubs in the Northeast to raise money for handicapped children and adults in the Northeast area.

The Century 21 Easter Seal Volleyball Marathon is open to teams from businesses, corporations, schools, clubs, organizations and leagues. Teams with like ability will be matched in the event, with co-ed, men's, women's and league teams competing against each other for trophies in a two-hour match, during which time each team will play three others.

A minimum registration fee will be required for each team to enter the marathon, for which the team will compete for trophies. Additional incentives for those teams who raise more money above the registration fee includes T-shirts, tube socks, running shorts and more. The top money raising team will receive 10 tickets to a Boston Celtics game or a dinner for 10 players at Higley's Restaurant and Pub, Danvers. The top money raising individual will receive a trip for two to Montreal, courtesy of Copley Travel Service of Boston. In addition, the top money raiser will appear on the National Easter Seal Telethon, hosted by Pat Boone, on March 27 and 28 on Channel 25, WXNE-TV.

People living in New York and Los Angeles, eight percent of the nation's population, breathe air that is unhealthy for eight months of the year.

An AFS family need not be one with teenagers at home, and even families with no children can provide suitable homelife for AFSers. Single-parent families also are encouraged to apply. The traits most valuable for host parents are a relaxed flexibility in dealing with teenagers and a willingness to encounter new perspectives on life. Students coming to the U.S. are usually age 18, and expect, upon completion of their year in the U.S., to go on to college or university work. A minimal fluency in English is required for joining the program. AFS schedules student arrivals in late July or early August so as to insure some language practice within the family before the student is exposed to school activities. Since the students have varied interests, AFS National matches them as far as possible to particular activities and skills of family members. For this reason, the Andover chapter interviews each prospective host family to ascertain its style of operation and particular individual needs.

Since the emphasis is upon the development of rewarding personal ties between student and host, family style of accommodations or degree of material comfort is much less important. AFS encourages families from various economic backgrounds to apply. Students do not require their own personal rooms nor special provision for their travel, entertainment or sports. The host family provides room and board, and generally includes its student in whatever activities it finds suitable for its own family members.

Travel to and from Andover is provided by AFS as well as medical expenses and a monthly allowance. The foreign students themselves are expected, where feasible, to provide at least part of the costs to their scholarship; other costs are made up by Andover and other chapters through assessments and contributions to AFS International. One factor which has made AFS into a strong organization for student exchanges is the family support system it has established with regional counselors, chapter liaison personnel, student clubs and local school representatives to provide answers and become sounding boards when questions arise about student adjustment to the new community.

This year Andover has been fortunate to have had two AFS foreign exchange students. Liz Molteberg of Norway spent six months with the Thomas Dye family of Smithshire Estates, while Marei Guempel of Germany and a student at Andover High School is spending a year with the Joseph Kents of Aloness Way. Through talks and demonstrations, they have brought their own cultures to life before varied community groups and classes—another way of reaching the AFS goal of international understanding.

Families who might be interested in applying for the AFS program should contact the AFS Host Family Selection Comm., Lee Kirkwood, 41 Sagamore Drive, or Lesley Whitley, 4 Virginia Road.

Hospital Is Accredited

Lawrence General Hospital (LGH), Lawrence, has been awarded a full two-year accreditation from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH).

"This is recognition by outside professionals that Lawrence General Hospital provides quality medical care in an excellent facility," commented Joshua L. Miner, chairman of LGH's board of trustees.

"This professional achievement is the result of an entire institutional effort, including trustees, medical staff and all our employees," said Alton W. Noyes, LGH executive director, in making the announcement.

A JCAH survey team consisting of a physician, nurse and hospital administrator spent two days at the hospital in late September.

The accreditation team looks at all aspects of the hospital including physical building, plant, safety aspects and quality assurance to make sure patients receive the best patient care possible, Noyes explained. Quality assurance affects all departments including dietary and housekeeping as well as those direct patient contacts such as physicians, nurses, respiratory therapists, physical therapists and occupational therapists.

"The team members actually looked at how policies and plans were being implemented on the nursing units and in various departments. They weren't just looking at statistics on paper," Miner stressed.

JCAH is recognized as the accreditation body for all hospitals in the United States. Accreditation is voluntary (not required) although almost all hospitals in the nation seek this approval.

Friendly Visitor Program To Observe Anniversary

The Friendly Visitor Program is celebrating! Naturally, it's a birthday party because the Friendly Visitor Program is five years old. The date of the celebration is March 11 at 2:30 p.m. at the Senior Center (The Haven), 11 Essex St., Andover. There will be music, refreshments and lots of sharing experiences of the last five years among the many people who helped the program grow. The community is invited to join in the celebration.

The fact that many older citizens, even those who have lived here all their lives, have felt separated, lonely and estranged from the community was very clearly documented five years ago. Because of her personal desire to change this situation in Andover, Mrs. Persis Laverack, 127 Hidden Road, did something. She found out about the Friendly Visitor Program in another town, she studied it and implemented it in Andover, with the help of the Council on Aging and the Smith-Purden Fund of West Parish Church. Mrs. Laverack served as coordinator for 1½ years. Today, as a result of that very fine start, the program continues to grow. Mrs. Gwen Smith, the present coordinator, has been with the Friendly Visitor Program for almost 3½ years.

The service is provided by volunteer visitors who are trained, then carefully matched to those elderly citizens who spend much of their time alone and discouraged. The goal of the program is to eliminate needless loneliness and to replace it with a sense of dignity, as well as a feeling of truly belonging to the community, through the regular visits of a concerned friend. New volunteers are always needed. Anyone who would like to become a visitor, or would like to receive the services, may call Mrs.

Smith at 470-0870. She would also like to hear from anyone who would like to come to the party on March 11 and celebrate with other townspeople on this important occasion.

Los Angeles Exhibit At Gallery

The new art of Downtown Los Angeles is the subject of a unique exhibition at the Addison Gallery of American Art located on the campus of Phillips Academy, Andover.

This exhibition presents 50 works by 19 contemporary artists who live in the new center of cultural activity that is burgeoning in downtown Los Angeles. The exhibition was organized for circulation to art museums throughout the United States by The Art Museum Association.

Included are paintings and drawings by Robert Ackerman, David Amico, Merion Estes, Joe Fay, Jud Fine, Bruce James, Mary Jones, Gary Lang, Margaret Nielsen, David Schirm, Stephen Seemayer and Ted Svennigsen; sculptures by James Croak, Woods Davy, Barry Fahr, Richard Ogiz and Coleen Sterritt; and documentation of site-specific art by Jon Peterson and Judy Simonian.

These artists are part of a vibrant cultural community that has formed in recent years in the central warehouse district of Los Angeles, near the produce market and Little Tokyo. Like the SoHo district in New York, hundreds of artists' studios and dozens of galleries are now located downtown, intermingled with ethnic neighborhoods, corporate offices and freeways to Hollywood and Santa Monica. In the Bunker Hill area, a new Museum of Contemporary Art (MOCA) is planned to open in 1984.

The art of Downtown Los Angeles, like the area itself, is not easy, pretty or totally resolved. Words like garish, vibrant and aggressive are sometimes used to characterize the rich and rapidly changing scene. "There is no unanimity of style in the streets or in the studios," says Thomas H. Garver, curator of the exhibition. "Certainly what is not seen downtown today is the mark of Los Angeles art of the previous decade, which emphasized light and atmosphere through the use of new materials and machine-made finishes. Downtown is too gritty and too compressed for that."

Garver, director of the Madison Art Center, Madison, Wis., has been an observer of contemporary art in California since the 1960s, serving as curator of exhibitions for the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco and director of the Newport Harbor Art Museum, Newport Beach, Calif. "This exhibition," says Garver, "the first of its kind to be presented outside of California, reflects the diversity, energy, and quality of artistic expression witnessed in downtown Los Angeles today."

Common to many of the works in the exhibition are references to the downtown environment. Jon Peterson builds "Bum Shelters"—minimal sculptures attached to architecture—which serve not only an aesthetic function but also house transients. Mary Jones paints abstractions in response to "the eclectic styles and mock exoticism of buildings and their interaction with the stark landscape surrounding them." Barry Fahr fabricates sculptural shapes covered with rockhard auto body putty, studded with nails and spray-painted with gaudy colors, alluding to the potential violence one senses in the area. And Judy Simonian paints the graffitied walls of buildings, continually modifying and responding to changes made over time by anonymous hands.

Funded by grants from the California Arts Council and the Digital Equipment Corporation through the New England Foundation for the Arts, Downtown Los Angeles is on a two-year national tour under the auspices of the Art Museum Association, San Francisco, Calif.

The exhibition will on view through March 14. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sundays 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. The gallery is free and open to the public.

Stamp Show

Area stamp and coin collectors will be delighted to hear that the American Festivals are returning to the Chicopee area with a new series of stamp and coin shows at the Rodeway Inn.

The first show in this new series will be held in the Naismith Room of the Rodeway Inn. In keeping with the American Festivals' efforts to appeal to collectors of all interests, dealers from throughout the Northeast will be on hand with a wide variety of stamps, coins, currency and covers from around the world. In addition, all visitors will be presented with a free American Festivals souvenir card and will be eligible for a selection of valuable door prizes.

Collectors from beginners with a new album to advanced philatelists and investors will want to be on hand at the Feb. 28 show from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The Rodeway is just off the intersection of I-291 and the Massachusetts Turnpike (I-90). Parking and admission are free.

Completes Aviation Training

Navy Aviation Fire Control Technician 3rd Class Kevin T. Barbera, son of Patricia A. Barbera, 92 Lisa Lane, North Andover, has completed the Advanced First Term Avionics (aviation electronics) course.

During the 26-week course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Millington, Tenn., trainees studied airborne communications, fire control systems and antisubmarine warfare systems. In addition to the technology of these systems, they studied mathematics, physics, electronic theory and the operating principles of digital and analog computers.

Antique Show In Ballardvale

The Fourteenth Annual Andover/Ballard Vale Antiques Exhibit and Sale, sponsored by the Women's Guild of the Ballard Vale United Church, will be held at the church, corner Clark Road and Hall Avenue (Rte. 93, exit 16, Dascomb Road, east to Clark Road) Friday, Feb. 26, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Feb. 27, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This show is considered by buyers and exhibitors alike to be one of the outstanding antiques events of the early spring season, and this year the hall will once again come alive with the elegance and charm of "Yesterday." Exhibitors from the Andover area as well as shops from other sections of New England will display and offer for sale a choice array of antiques, including formal and country furniture, silver, antique jewelry, glass, china, lamps, Tibetan rugs, primitives, oriental rugs and porcelains, clocks, quilts, linens, woodenware, pewter, brass, copper, toys, paintings, books and many other hard-to-find heirlooms.

chowders, desserts and delicious pies that the ladies of the Women's Guild are famous for.

Free parking facilities will be available. Tickets will be sold at the door, and children under 12 will be admitted free when accompanied by an adult.

Events Mark Black History Month

This weekend, Feb. 19-21, Phillips Academy in Andover will present a weekend of Black American Arts in recognition Black History Month. The public is invited to the events presented by students, faculty, outside guests and organizations.

Friday's offerings include a Coffeehouse in the Underwood Room at 7 p.m. where there will be dances, music and poetry readings by students from the academy's Afro-Latino-American Society, and Clarence Walker, professor of history at Wesleyan University, will lecture in the Kemper Auditorium at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Dominique-Rene de Lerma, professor of music and graduate music coordinator at Morgan State University, will lead a seminar on Saturday in the Addison Gallery of American Art. At 10 a.m. he will speak on "The Remarkable Life of Chevalier de St. Georges" and "Choral Music by Black Composers." A faculty ensemble will perform M. St. Georges Quartet Nr. 1, edited by Dr. de Lerma. The topic at 2 p.m. will be "General Characteristics of Black Music."

The academy will present the Morgan State University Choir at 7 p.m. in the Cochran Chapel. The group has distinguished itself as one of the most outstanding and active of American university choruses. Within the past few years, it has performed at two annual conventions of the Music Educators National Conference, in concert at Copenhagen's famed Sankt Annae Gymnasium, at the 1975 annual meeting of the American Choral Director's Association (where the choir received a spontaneous standing ovation from more than 4,000 conductors) and on tours throughout the United States. During the fall of 1977 the choir journeyed to New York City at the invitation of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and participated in the week-long celebration of music by Black composers. The nation's critics were unanimous in their praise of the singers, prompting John Guinn of the Detroit Free Press to describe the group as "one of the finest college choral groups I have ever heard."

Sunday there will be a special ecumenical service led by the Rev. David Daniels from Phillips Exeter Academy, the Rev. Phillip Zaeder and Father Richard Gross of Phillips Academy, Andover. The service will include readings by academy students and music by the Academy Gospel Choir, the New England Gospel Ensemble and the Academy Cantata Choir.

The final event of the weekend will be a chamber music concert featuring Black composers and performers, at 3 p.m. in the Addison Gallery of American Art. Works by Thomas J. Anderson, Chevalier de St. Georges, Schubert and Beethoven will be presented.

Eric Thomas, clarinet, and William Thomas, cello, members of the academy's music department, will perform. Joining them will be Fredericka King, piano. King has studied piano since the age of seven. She has her B.M. from Boston Conservatory, M.M. from the New England Conservatory and is working on her doctorate at Boston University. King is also on the faculty of the Conservatory Preparatory Division.

Also on Sunday The Andover Players, directed by Richard Wilson, will perform

T.J. Anderson's "Variations on a Theme by Molson." Dr. Anderson is the former chairman and currently member of the music department at Tufts University.

Due to delays in shipment, contracts with exIran during the trade embargo were not met. These goods were not accepted by the specialist distributors who had ordered the merchandise. After obtaining a special license, the goods were released by customs. These bales consist of Persian rugs and other valuable handmade Oriental carpets from countries of origin such as: Iran, China, Pakistan, India and Afghanistan. They will be auctioned in single pieces in order to release immediate cash to fulfill the obligation for liabilities that were not met promptly as agreed. Oriental rugs will be given away as door prizes.

Passive solar houses may make up one-fourth of all new housing starts by 1985, the National Association of Home Builders predicts. California, New Mexico, New Jersey and Connecticut have either passed laws that assure access to sunlight or are considering them. Massachusetts towns can enact their own solar access ordinances, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Lenten Series At St. Paul's

"Lent—A Time For Discipline" will be the theme for a series of talks to be given on four consecutive Thursdays at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in North Andover by Dr. Bessie Chambers, Dr. Chambers, who is known throughout the United States for her workshops on communication and self-help development, received her Ph.D. from Boston College in 1963. She was chairman of the department of psychology at Barat College, Lake Forest, Ill., and has been professor of pastoral theology at the Episcopal Divinity School in Cambridge since 1972. Dr. Chambers will discuss several concepts of inner personal relations during this series.

Elm Square Project Ready To Be Bid

Long-awaited and long-delayed, the reconstruction of Elm Square may be back on the track by the end of this month, the town manager indicated this week — but that is far from certain, he added.

Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony said designs and bid specifications are now in the hands of the state, which will fund the project along with the federal government. The state is scheduled to put the project out to bid by the end of February, but Mahony said he was not sure how much faith he would put in that timetable.

The project calls for redesigning Elm Square to improve both the traffic flow and the area's appearance. It includes plans to make Park Street and Barnard Street one-way, and to prohibit right turns from Central Street onto Main Street. In addition, new traffic signals will be installed and new green areas will be planted.

The square will undergo full-depth reconstruction — the road will be excavated to a depth of several feet and then rebuilt. Federal plans to extend that work up Main Street to Chestnut Street led to a delay in getting construction underway last year.

Downtown merchants protested when federal road inspectors recommended full-depth reconstruction for Main Street last spring. Construction was to have begun last summer, with completion scheduled for mid-December.

The merchants said full-depth reconstruction would disrupt the downtown enough to discourage Christmas shoppers, hurting their businesses. They argued for resurfacing the roadway only, a less time-consuming option.

The selectmen agreed, and pulled that section of Main Street out of the project to avoid having to comply with the federal decision. As a result, new engineering studies had to be done and approved by the state, and construction was delayed.

No work will be done on Main Street beyond the square as part of the project. If Main Street is to be resurfaced, town meeting will have to appropriate funds to do it, at a cost of approximately $100,000.

There is also a chance that state Chapter 90 funds for roadway renovations could pay for the resurfacing in the future.

Lavender and rosemary were distilled in alcohol around 1300 A.D., forming the first true colognes. Beginning in 1850, perfume was made by steeping flowers in petroleum, which extracted the fragrance and natural plant waxes, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

March 11: 9:30 a.m., Holy Communion, 7:30 p.m., Dr. Chambers "Inner Personal Relations-Conflict."

March 18: 9:30 a.m., Holy Communion; 10:15 a.m. Women's Auxiliary Bible Study; 7:30 p.m., Dr. Chambers "Inner Personal Relations-Prayer."

Interested members of the community are invited to attend these services.

Dedication of memorial window for former members of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's will take place Sunday, Feb. 28, following the 10 a.m. service.

When coal is burned to drive turbines that generate electricity in a power plant, two-thirds of the energy is wasted as excess heat. A "district heating" system makes use of this heat. St. Paul, Minn., is building an $80 million district heating system for city buildings that will go into operation next fall and will save two million barrels of oil per year, Massachusetts Audubon reports.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — February 1907

On the removal of the old poles used by the Lawrence Gas Co. at the corner of School and Abbot streets, the small mail-box has been taken away and will soon be replaced by the large city-type of mail-box, which is almost twice as large as the old style and which will abundantly take care of the big Sunday afternoon mail at Abbot Academy.

The act recently passed by the selectmen in regard to muzzling dogs has been in force for one week and many owners have complied with the law by muzzling their dogs. There are many canines, however, still roaming about the streets without the disagreeable muzzle.

Paul Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Brooks of this town is one of the most important and best basketball players on the Harvard team. He is reported to be a very steady player and can be relied upon in a pinch.

The art collection for the new John-Es-ther Art gallery has arrived at its destination, the entire set which was left to the building by the late Mrs. Byers having been brought from Boston by Ammon P. Richardson, on Tuesday night. It is estimated that the value of the collection is $33,000.

Special protection and safeguarding of the interests of the small taxpayer was the dominating subject at the organization meeting Wednesday evening of the Andover Taxpayer's Association Board of Directors, at which John F. O'Connell was elected president of the association.

The worst snowstorm of the season hit Andover last night about eight o'clock, reached the height of its fury about one in the morning, and subsided at four-thirty a.m. Early this morning, before press time, there were no reports of casualties from the storm, except that a few cars in scattered parts of the town were snowed in.

So much publicity and credit has been given to Milwaukee recently because of its excellent financial condition that Town Treasurer Thaxter Eaton feels called upon to point out that, whereas Milwaukee had in its treasury the first of the year $7.00 for each inhabitant, Andover's per capita was $8.50, Andover's tax rate of $24.20 compares favorably with Milwaukee's $25.96.

The oldest organization in Andover — one even older than the town itself — will vote itself out of existence before April, 1932. When it goes, the last vestige of very old New England will have gone from Andover, leaving only its records to remind people that once Andover was South Parish, and that the South Parish was the town.

The announcement last week of the Historical Society Ball on Feb. 22 may have left the impression that it was exclusively a costume affair. This is not correct. Any dress may be worn, fancy costume, colonial costume or evening dress.

Acme Concrete Co. will re-open its Fletcher street contractor's yard this spring. Walter Thomas told the Townsman this week that the Stoneham firm will "operate as we have the past year." Residents of Fletcher street may not be pleased with the announcement, for some have believed that the firm had shut down its operations and sold the property.

New and stringent state regulations governing the testing of milk will be issued within a few days. And the new rules may solve a serious problem for the Board of Health, which has been unable to test milk for bacteria more than two, or at best three, times a year.

An Andover couple, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wetterberg, 1 Hartigan Court, observed their 60th anniversary last week. Both natives of Sweden, they were married in Boston Jan. 30, 1897. The couple settled in Andover following their marriage. Mr. Wetterberg was employed by Tyer Rubber Co. until his retirement in 1932.

Citizen participation was held up as the key to successful town government by State Senator Philip A. Graham, speaking to a spirited audience Jan. 30. The group was attending a meeting sponsored by the Andover Committee for Self Government and his subject was titled "Why Andover Should Retain Democratic Self-Government."

Three Contests, Ballot Question To Lure Local Voters In March

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Three contests and action on a referendum question to override Proposition 2½ and remove school construction bonds from the school budget feature the annual town election set for Monday, March 22.

With Tuesday the deadline for filing nomination papers for the annual town election, the ballot voters will consider on March 22 is now complete.

The 1982 race includes three candidates competing for two seats on the Board of Selectmen, while four candidates will vie for two slots on the School Committee and two will seek a term on the Regional Vocational Technical School Board.

Candidates running for two three-year terms as selectmen are incumbent Norma Gammon of 115 Abbot St., seeking a provisional term and currently serving as chairman of the board; along with Atty. William J. Dalton of 9 Old South Lane, and Kenneth P. Buck of 9 Summer St.

The four residents seeking two three-year terms on the school committee are Selectman Susan T. Poore of 85 Osgood St., Robert F. Smith of 10 Dundas Ave., School Building Committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper of 10 Mohawk Road, and Don Michelnie of 381 Lowell St.

Two candidates are competing for one three-year post on the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical School Committee. John P. Childs of 135 North St., and Arthur S. Sobol of 7 Chandler Road.

Five candidates are seeking five openings on the Punchard Free School board of Trustees: William V. Emmons of 9 Locke St., Earl D. Effinger of 5 Iceland Road, Joan M. Lewis of 12 Elysian Drive, John R. Petty of 10 Talbot Road, and Margaret R. Porter of Evergreen Lane. All are for five-year terms.

And Town Moderator James D. Doherty of 9 Juniper Road is once again seeking re-election to that position with no opposition.

Cablevision Firm Ready To Begin Construction

Rollins Cablevision has just a few steps — and possibly just over two months — to go before it begins constructing a cable television system in Andover.

The Atlanta-based cable company is ready to begin construction. Finance and Budget Director Anthony Torrisi said yesterday, but must first obtain its final 15-year license from the Board of Selectmen. Rollins is currently working under a provisional license, granted by the selectmen late last year, that will expire May 2.

Torrisi said he expects Rollins to return to the board for its final license by that date. But first, the company must settle three questions with the town's Cable Advisory Committee. Torrisi has been actively involved with that committee, which met Tuesday night.

The company and the committee have been working towards an agreement on where two community access studios will be located and how they will be used, where Rollins' offices and repair center will be located, and where an antenna and satellite reception dish will be located.

Locating the studios is the major issue to be settled, Torrisi said. One studio may be located at Merrimack College, he explained, while a second studio could be located at Andover High School. Rollins also must develop a policy governing the use of those studios by town officials, non-profit organizations and townspeople.

Talks have already begun with Merrimack College, and the cable committee plans to discuss the high school studio with the School Committee in coming weeks, Torrisi indicated.

Rollins is currently negotiating for 10,000 square feet of office space in town, which would be used for their local offices and as a repair center. The location of its antenna and satellite reception dish has yet to be determined.

Once those decisions have been reached, with the agreement of the cable advisory committee, Rollins will probably be granted its final license, and construction can begin. Company officials say construction of the town-wide system will take 10 months to complete.

2,000 Win Revalue Appeals

More than 2,000 Andover property-owners lucky enough to win their appeals with PRC Jacobs, the revaluation firm, have been mailed notices of their decreased revaluations during the past two weeks.

The last notices were mailed out by Jacobs a week ago, Assessor William Russell said this week. A total of 2,394 notices of changes in valuation went out to both residential and commercial or industrial property-owners.

The decreases added up to some $23 million, bringing the total valuation for the town down from approximately $987 million to roughly $964 million.

Not all residents whose valuations went down were notified,

Russell added: Only those who appealed their valuations to Jacobs in hearings last fall were sent written notices. Counting changes for those who did not come to Jacobs for hearings, Russell estimates that the firm changed its valuations for 2,500 to 2,800 properties in total.

The first tax bills since 100 percent revaluation will probably be in the mail by the end of March, the assessor said.

Taxpayers can expect a rate of $19.50, the figure that has been submitted to the state Department of Revenue for approval. If that rate is approved, it will be the first time Andover has not used a full-dollar figure, Russell noted.

East Junior High Reuse Tied To Municipal Offices Examination

By Sue Aucella Deacon

East Junior High School may be headed for a new future as the home of town and school administration offices — or it may be headed for demolition. The future of the old school, soon to be abandoned as a junior high, is in the hands of the upcoming annual town meeting.

Memorial Auditorium, the central wing of East, is safely included in the school building project; it will be renovated and become part of the new Doherty Junior High School.

But the east and west wings of the building may be torn down, the town manager said this week, unless voters agree to spend $3.5 million to renovate the wings for "municipal uses."

And tied to the fortunes of the two EJH wings are those of Town Hall, the Essex Street theatre building, the Shawsheen school (now housing school administration offices) and even, to some extent, Memorial Hall Library.

The Reuse Committee for Public Buildings, chaired by Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, has been studying possible reuse of East for several months, and recently reached two conclusions. Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony reported: the wings should be preserved, and public use would be preferred over private development.

"The feeling is that total private sector use would not be appropriate at this time," Mahony explained. "The wings would still be tied too closely with the school for that." Besides municipal offices, non-subsidized senior citizens' housing may be the only possibility for the school, he said.

But just how the building should be used is yet to be determined, and the committee may need "some professional guidance" to help them come up with a package of alternatives to present to town meeting. A consultant, probably in the form of an engineer or a space planner, will help decide "what's feasible, what will work," Mahony said.

Planning funds of $56,000, appropriated by 1980 annual town meeting immediately after voters approved the school building project, will be used to pay the consultant's fees, the manager explained. Those funds have remained largely untouched to date.

In the planning process, Mahony intends to "closely" review town and school department estimates of how much office space is needed. "Sometimes less space can be more valuable than more space," he pointed out.

The reuse committee's decision that the East wings should be reused has opened up "a whole series of questions," the manager pointed out. "What do we do with Town Hall, and the theatre building? What does this mean for library parking? And what do we do with the Shawsheen school? Each question raises a couple more."

There are "a lot of interesting things we could do with Town Hall," the manager said, but he favors restoring it to its original appearance ("the Historical Society would like that") and using it as private offices, with meeting rooms on the second floor.

A commercial use for the town building would be "unwise," Mahony said, because it could create parking problems. And after making 70 municipal employee parking spaces available for downtown merchants' customers, he would not want to bring in new competition for the merchants. Mahony believes Town Hall is not suited for residential use.

Ideas for the theatre building — "a nasty building" — may be harder to come by. Currently the home of Community Development and Planning offices as well as the Senior Center, the building is a patchwork of renovations upon renovations.

It has been suggested that the public library, located next door, could use the theatre building for storage, but Mahony said, "I suspect the building is less than suitable for library space."

The manager seems most enthusiastic about finding a way to enlarge the library.

"The library is fantastic, and its use is incredible," he said. "There are so many more things we could be doing if we had the space available — more work with other libraries, more research facilities, more children's programs."

The request for a $3.5 million appropriation to renovate East Junior High includes funds for architectural designs for a library addition, Mahony indicated.

The rest of the appropriation would cover renovation of the East wings, including locker rooms and a cafeteria under Memorial Auditorium that will not be used as part of the new Doherty. The funding would also pay for a heating and ventilation system and elevators.

The committee came up with the $3.5 million figure by estimating that it would cost $55 per square foot to renovate the wings.

If East is to be saved, town meeting must make the decision this year, the manager explained, because construction at Doherty is progressing so rapidly that the wings will almost certainly be handed to the town by next fall. (Doherty Junior High is scheduled to be ready for use by late 1983.)

Mahony is concerned that, without prompt town meeting action, the school could be left unheated next winter — and being left unheated can be "awfully hard on an old building," he noted.

Even if the reuse committee does not have a complete package ready for town meeting this year, and must return later for further voter approval, voters' approval this spring would at least allow the town to heat the school next winter.

And if town meeting defeats the reuse article? "Then we would have to tear those wings down," the manager said. "But I don't believe that's what the people want."

The next meeting of the reuse committee is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 24, at Memorial Hall Library.

Two Local Youths Fatally Injured In Wakefield Crash

Two Andover youths died of injuries sustained in a two-car accident at a Wakefield intersection late Saturday night.

Scott J. Heseltine, 18, 14 Argyle St., Andover, died Tuesday night at Massachusetts General Hospital where he was being treated in the intensive care unit for internal injuries.

Heseltine was a passenger in a car being driven by Michael R. Darwin, 17, 9 Millstone Circle, Andover, who died at Melrose-Wakefield Hospital, Saturday night from injuries received when his car collided with a van being operated by James Hughes, 23, of Wakefield at about 11:43 p.m.

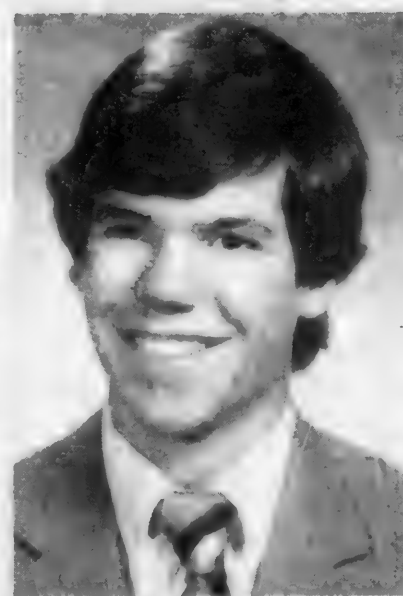

Darwin and Heseltine were returning to a party in Wilmington after driving Katie Darwin, 16, to a friend's home in Wakefield. The Darwin car was travelling west on Elm Street in downtown Wakefield when it collided with the Hughes' van travelling south on Parker Road.

The "Jaws of Life" were used by Wakefield public safety officials to remove the two Andover victims from the wreckage.

Hughes was treated at New England Hospital, Stoneham, and released. His wife, Cheryl Hughes, 23, and their two-year-old daughter, Melissa, passengers in the van, were also treated at New England Memorial Hospital.

Police and Registry of Motor Vehicles officials, who indicated the road was wet at the time of the accident, are continuing their investigation into the fatal crash.

Both Heseltine and Darwin were mem-

A funeral Mass was offered Wednesday for Michael R. Darwin, at St. Columbkille church, Brighton. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Formerly of Brighton, the Austin Prep senior intended to continue his education in the Fall studying political science.

He is survived by his parents, Richard M. and Dorothy E. (Carey) Darwin of Andover; sisters, Susan M., Laura A., Patti and Katie M. Darwin, and Carey A. Sullivan, all of Andover; and one nephew, Ryan P. Sullivan of Andover.

A Positive Program

With attention at this time of year generally centering on ways to save taxpayers money, it is significant to note that in a rather quiet way, a program initiated by the police and school departments has already resulted in cost savings.

An anti-vandalism program, established through cooperation between Police Chief James Johnson and Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert has contributed significantly to a reduction in vandalism costs from over $50,000 in the 1978-'79 school year to $27,863 during the 1980-'81 school year with evidence that this year's costs will again be lower.

Vandalism, in addition to being a display of senseless stupidity, is also costly as seen in the figures shown here.

That it can be effectively controlled proves to be beneficial to not only taxpayers but to the town as well, involving as it does the services of municipal personnel to take corrective action.

The program instituted through police-school efforts involved the students themselves in policing their school properties and in generally taking pride in their community as well as what the town is providing for them.

This year, of course, that effort has been expended to involve the Andover Chamber of Commerce in not only assisting in the curbing of vandalism, but shoplifting and general pride in the appearance of the Andover community as a whole.

While realizing that vandalism will never be curtailed completely, resulting in the diversion of funds for more productive purposes, any effort to reduce the problem which was once so rampant is to be applauded.

Statistics for the past three years are encouraging. Glass breakage at schools which cost $24,018 in 1978-'79, was $8,970 last year. Graffiti problems which reached a high of $1,450 two years ago were down to $769 last year.

While there still remain problems with vandalism to plumbing and heating and ventilating controls, these costs are also substantially down, with plumbing reduced from $2,400 three years ago to $1,171 last year.

There are still areas which are in need of attention, such as tampering and destruction of lockers, damage to hardware and electrical fixtures, fire extinguishers and lavatory fixtures.

But, overall, there is reason to believe that a positive program is providing Andover with results which are not only eliminating wasted funds, but expressing pride in the community and appreciation for the opportunities provided through direction of taxpayer funds to more proper channels.

Concerned Parents, Where Are You?

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Last week, after waiting two hours at East Junior High to register for some DCS classes, I rushed over to the Bancroft School for a meeting of "concerned parents" on the subject of the school budget. What I soon discovered, upon surveying the library area for some indication of mass assembly, was something far less.

As the appointed time rolled by, the eager look of anticipation on the faces of the organizers soon turned to utter amazement—then to resigned disappointment. It became very obvious to me what the problem was: there were no people!

Of course, it is easy to understand everyone's reaction to that word, "budget." What with "Reagonomics," inflation, unemployment, Proposition 2½, who wants to sit and listen to someone talk figures. It is difficult enough trying to decipher your income tax forms, let alone trying to comprehend percentage cuts.

However, the flyer did say "concerned parents," and to me that made the difference. I like to think of myself as a parent who has very definite concerns for my children. Not unlike most of the parents in Andover, the main reason for moving here was to assure a better quality of life for my family. Somewhere, included in that package, should be the opportunity for our children to receive the best possible education through a school system which encourages the cooperative dedication of parent and educator alike.

Having lived here only two brief years, I can truly say I am proud to live in Andover. I have attended town meetings, taken advantage of the many fine social and cultural offerings, and attended various school functions. What keeps coming to mind through all this is the word, "concerned." The reason for my interest in these activities was primarily based on my concern for my family. The reason there are so many of these activities is because there are a lot of other people who share the same feelings.

Andover is a concerned town, and it should be. We all have a vested interest in what is at stake for us as the future looms gloomily on the horizon. However, the biggest mistake all of us can make is to think that our concern is in itself enough to assure that quality of life we all seek. It is not! To be concerned is to act on our beliefs, to speak out for them where it will make a difference. The handful of parents, teachers and administrators at that meeting last week were there for that purpose.

Fortunately, all of us will have another opportunity to re-confirm our concern next month by exercising one of our most cherished rights, the right of free assembly. At that town meeting, there will be some very important issues to be considered; not the least of which will have a direct impact on the future of the Andover school system. In the interim, we would be well advised to stop, look and listen, and then in a concerned fashion, act on our convictions. Remember, our children are much more than tax deductions.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Past presidents left legacy of recordings -- and a yachtBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- This is a tale about yachts and secret tape recordings. It is important because the vessel and the tapes in question were once the playthings of former presidents.

The yacht is the Sequoia, which served our presidents from Franklin Roosevelt's time until 1977, when Jimmy Carter decided that a presidential yacht didn't fit the image of a "people's president." He ordered the Sequoia sold.

Now it seems that the Sequoia has fallen on hard times. In fact, on Jan. 8, 1982, it suffered the ultimate indignity: It was placed under arrest by a United States marshal.

To appreciate how awful this is, you have to know something about the Sequoia's background. It's a truly elegant ship, commissioned into the U.S. Navy as the personal means of seaborne transportation for President Franklin Roosevelt.

FDR used the yacht regularly. It was not only a means of relaxation for the seagoing president; it was a luxurious place to hold private talks with such world leaders as the "former naval person," Winston Churchill, during World War II.

Richard Nixon, a former naval person himself, was also enamored of the Sequoia. In fact, he used the presidential yacht more than anyone but FDR. Nixon used to have the Sequoia sail down to Mount Vernon, just down the Potomac River from Washington. There he would have everyone stand up and salute the home of the first president.

Jack Kennedy was another sailor who enjoyed the Sequoia. He and Jackie redecorated the yacht's bedroom and installed a king-size bed that was built specially to accommodate the president's back problem.

Lyndon Johnson was basically a landlubber from East Texas, but he put the presidential yacht to good use. Almost too good, in fact. One time Johnson had so many people aboard for a barbecue on the upper deck that the Navy officers in charge of the yacht were afraid it would capsize. They asked Johnson to limit the number of people he asked aboard after that.

Despite this glorious history, the Sequoia is now ice-bound in Baltimore harbor while lawyers fight over its future. The people who bought it when Jimmy Carter put it up for auction sold it to somebody else, and there has been a dispute over who owns the title. So the proud Sequoia is under arrest, like any common purse-snatcher or embezzler, until the matter is settled.

The tape recordings in question are those that were secretly made by several recent presidents.

The taped conversations of Franklin Roosevelt and John Kennedy have been the subject of headlines in recent weeks. Lyndon Johnson was also known to have secretly taped some conversations in the Oval Office. He used buttons that supposedly dispensed soft drinks to activate the recording device.

Two other presidents had secret recording devices installed in the White House. There are transcripts of tapes that Dwight Eisenhower had made from time to time in the Oval Office. And there are some relatively primitive 16-inch discs that show that Harry Truman at least tried to record some conversations during the early years of his presidency.

The Truman discs should be no surprise to our readers. Nearly five years ago, we reported that Truman had been made aware of secret recording equipment in the Oval Office, even before he took over from FDR.

A salesman for a recording equipment company demonstrated the hidden device to Truman's aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan. The salesman told Vaughan and Truman that the only legal way they could use the recorder was to notify the other party to the conversation that the device was being used.

Shortly after Truman became president, the salesman was summoned to the White House by Gen. Vaughan. He was told that the gadget didn't work. Vaughan instructed him to get the thing working or "get it the hell out of here."

Gen. Vaughan denied the whole thing. The salesman said he didn't know if Truman had in fact ever used the secret recording device.

But a spokesman for the Truman Library told us that in the mid-1970s it received 10 16-inch discs from the FDR library. They were apparently made during Truman's occupancy of the White House.

Unfortunately, tapes made from the Truman discs are unintelligible. As best the library people can guess, the recordings were of conversations in Truman's office and did not involve intercepts of telephone conversations. There are apparently no logs or transcripts of the recorded conversations.

As for the Eisenhower years, summaries of secretly recorded conversations indicate that Ike taped about two dozen Oval Office meetings. Some of the dignitaries Eisenhower wanted to capture on tape were then-Vice President Nixon, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, Queen Fredrika of the Netherlands and the late Sen. Everett Dirksen.

Officials of the Eisenhower Library in Abilene, Kan., said there are no tapes available of the Eisenhower conversations in the Oval Office. There aren't even any transcripts. Only summaries.

It should be noted, of course, that these earlier secret recordings of Oval Office conversations were selective. The recorder was turned on only when the president wanted a record of what was said. Richard Nixon, on the other hand, went to extremes. He recorded everything -- and the secret tapes eventually brought him down.

Outstanding Season At Northeastern

Maureen Sheehy of Andover recently completed an outstanding season as a member of the Northeastern University field hockey team.

Sheehy, a junior sweeper, was one of the Huskies' top defensive performers and was a key to their 13-5-1 record.

The Huskies advanced to the semi-finals of the Division II Eastern regionals before losing to Syracuse 2-1. Northeastern beat C.W. Post 6-1 in the quarterfinals.

NU opened the season winning eight of nine games, the only loss a season-opening 2-1 loss to nationally ranked Iowa, before losing a tough 2-1 decision to New Hampshire to end the streak.

The Huskies had wins over Boston University, Plymouth State, Rhode Island, Providence, Lowell, Syracuse (regular season), Colgate, Bridgewater State, Boston College (twice), Holy Cross, Southern Connecticut and C.W. Post as it topped the victory total of last year's 12-9-3 national tournament qualifying team. NU had only two Division II losses all season.

Sheehy is a 1979 graduate of Andover High School where she earned letters in field hockey, gymnastics, soccer and track.

She is an electrical engineering major and will graduate in 1984.

66-37 in the quarterfinal round of the first annual Tewksbury Invitational Basketball Tournament at Tewksbury High.

The victory kept the Andover crew, which won the Saugus Ironworks Tournament as sixth graders last year, undefeated in the brief time they have been together.

Andover had chalked up a trio of pre-tournament victories as well, edging Tewksbury twice including a 52-46 triumph at the University of Lowell gym, and beating Methuen once.

The win over Fort Devens advanced the Andover All-Stars to the semifinal round of the eight-team tourney, where it will face Wakefield this Sunday.

The survivor of the Andover-Wakefield contest will continue to the championship game, also this Sunday, against the winner of the other semifinal contest between Revere and host Tewksbury.

In other quarterfinal round action, Tewksbury eliminated Beverly, 59-49, Wakefield trimmed Athol, 66-42, and Revere ousted Wilmington.

Wakefield will be working on a 38-game winning streak when it faces Andover this weekend.

Fort Devens provided some stiff opposition for Andover, which didn't break the game open until early in the third quarter with a sudden press-aided 17-0 explosion.

The locals were hampered throughout much of the first half by foul troubles, as starters John Perry and Steve Redgate were both forced to the bench early with three personals apiece.

Devens grabbed a quick 4-0 lead on a pair of long-range bombs by sharpshooter Seth Sasser, who netted 10 first quarter points, but Andover soon got untracked and eventually inched ahead 16-15 after one period.

John Perry pumped through seven points in the opening stanza while Kurt Burzlaff, who played an outstanding all-around game, added six points and took control of the boards.

The teams battled back-and-forth throughout the second period, during which time Nick Coon, John Twomey, Dave Vickers and Pete Derba compensated well for the absence of foul-plagued Perry and Redgate.

Sasser came back with five more points for Devens, mostly on baseline shots, while the Andover attack was well-distributed.

A breakaway bucket by Chris Poor just before the halftime buzzer enabled the locals to carry a 30-25 lead into the locker room at intermission.

Andover switched defenses and was able to contain Sasser in the second half, thanks primarily to some in-your-shirt man-to-man defensive hustle by Twomey.

After Fort Devens closed the gap to 33-31 early in the third period, Andover's press and some excellent boardwork by Kurt Burzlaff and Chris Colsia keyed the 17-0 run that made it 50-31.

Colsia tossed in six points and pulled down six rebounds in the period, Burzlaff added six points and four rebounds, and John Perry contributed five points and three assists.

A 16-4 fourth quarter scoring edge put the game out of sight, as Nick Coon and John Perry combined for 10 points while Colsia and Burzlaff combined for 12 rebounds.

John Perry led three Andover players into double figures with 18 points, and he also had five steals, four assists and three rebounds.

Kurt Burzlaff pumped through 16 points, pulled down 22 rebounds and passed out three assists.

Chris Colsia netted 12 points and corralled 16 rebounds.

Nick Coon delivered 7 points, three assists and three rebounds, while Chris Poor had 7 points, four steals and one assist.

Steve Redgate tossed in 5 points and ripped down five rebounds, John Twomey swished a free throw and played outstanding defense, Pete Derba had three rebounds and Dave Vickers two steals.

Sasser finished with a game-high 19 points for Fort Devens, while Bob Eaton added 8 points.

Snow and ice create hazardous stopping conditions, reminds the Auto Club of Merrimack Valley. So increase the following distances during bad weather. On glare ice at 20 degrees above zero, a car traveling only 20 miles per hour requires 195 feet to stop with regular tires, 174 feet with snow tires and 77 feet with reinforced tire chains, according to the motor club.

West Parish Rallies For Top Spot

By Rick Harrison

In a showdown battle that lived up to pre-game expectations, two-time defending champ West Parish A rallied from a 9-0 first quarter deficit to edge St. Robert's A 39-36 in their Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold Division battle of the unbeaten last week at the West Elementary School gym.

The victory gave West Parish A sole possession of first place for the initial time this season, as the winners improved to 7-0 while St. Robert's A slipped to 6-1 overall.

Both teams have three games remaining, including another head-to-head confrontation on March 8, the final night of regular season play.

In other Gold Division games last week, St. Robert's C vaulted over the .500 mark with a 33-21 triumph over St. Augustine A, and St. Augustine B stopped St. Robert's B, 32-20, behind the sharpshooting of Chris Colsia.

John Perry of St. Robert's A has become the fifth different Gold Division scoring leader, boasting 82 points. He is followed by Gary Marotta and Chris Colsia with 76 points each. Kurt Burzlaff 75, Jeff Smith 65, Chris Poor 60, Cliff Marotta 59 and Tim Boudreau with 50.

West Parish A, 39-36

This victory was the 27th in the last 30 games for West A teams, but it didn't come easily.

Both West Parish A and St. Robert's A were minus a key player in the first quarter, as Kurth Burzlaff did not see action for the former and John Perry did not set foot on the floor for the latter.

St. Robert's started out hot, controlling the boards in Burzlaff's absence and shooting well enroute to a 9-0 first period lead.

Jeff Smith scored a pair of baskets, while Chris Sapuppo and Mosa Kaleel had one fieldgoal each and Chris Concemi a free throw.

The teams did a complete about-face in the second quarter, as West parish A celebrated Burzlaff's return with an 11-0 scoring edge to take a slim 11-9 halftime advantage.

Tim Boudreau pocketed five points and Kurt Burzlaff four in the stanza, while Chris Poor gave West A its first lead by swishing a buzzer-beating 15-foot set shot from the left side.

West Parish A built its lead to six points in the third session, as four points apiece by Boudreau and Burzlaff and two free throws from Mike Lane keyed a 12-8 run to make it 23-17.

The final period was a two-way shootout, with John Perry's red-hot marksmanship for St. Robert's countered by the offensive heroics of Poor, Boudreau, and Lane.

Perry netted an amazing 15 points in the quarter, while Jeff Smith added four.

But Boudreau and Lane retaliated with six points each, while Poor pocketed four points.

St. Robert's closed the gap to just two points on several occasions, but never came back to tie the score. SRA had possession of the ball at the buzzer, but a shot that would have made it a one-point game rolled off the rim.

West Parish A won the game at the free throw line with some superb clutch shooting down the stretch.

Tim Boudreau, a State finalist in the recent Elks Club foul shooting contest, swished four free throws in the closing minutes while Mike Lane calmly converted two others.

For the game, West A made good on 11-of-14 charities.

Boudreau led the winners' offense with 15 points while Burzlaff, Lane and Poor added 8 points apiece. Burzlaff also had numerous rebounds.

Contributing some key plays along the way were Pat Kelley, Bill O'Brien, Kurt Nickerson and Stefan Kelly.

Perry was game-high marksman with 19 points, all in the second half, while Jeff Smith picketed 8 points, Chris Sapuppo 4, Chris Concemi 3 and Mosa Kaleel 2.

Gerry Nassif, Larry Middleton and Matt Gibson also played well for St. Robert's A.

St. Robert's C, 33-21

St. Robert's C bolted to a 15-4 first quarter lead, as Jim Davis and Cliff Marotta combined for 11 points, and stretched its advantage to 20-6 at halftime before coasting home against St. Augustine A.

The two teams traded baskets throughout the final two periods.

Cliff Marotta and Jim Davis both scored in double figures for St. Robert's C, now 4-3 overall, as Cliff pumped in 12 points and Jim contributed 10.

Gary Marotta finished the contest with 7 points, and first-half buckets were netted by Jim Tanin and John Davis.

Dennis Sampson and Frank Fiore were other standouts for St. Robert's C, while once again played minus high-scoring Brian Kobelski (49 points in four games).

Paul Davis sparked St. Augustine A with 8 points, Mark Russell tossed in 6 points, Drew Dunn 4 and Brandon McCue 3.

Other fine floor games came from John Davies, Todd McAllister, Scott Kirwin and Jose Guerra.

St. Augustine B, 32-20

Chris Colsia scored in every quarter, finishing the game with 17 points, as St. Augustine B jumped out to an early lead and just kept extending the advantage against St. Robert's B.

The victors took a 7-1 lead after one period, and stretched it to 15-6 by halftime and 24-12 in the third stanza.

Kevin Henderson trailed Colsia in the scoring parade with 7 points, Scott Wallace netted 4 points, and single fieldgoals were added by Brendan Lynch and Rob Finneran.

Mark Peters, Bartley Parker and Matt Dufresne also played well for St. Augustine B.

Harvard, Holy Cross Tied For Top

By Rick Harrison

Defending champ Harvard and Holy Cross remained tied for first place in the Andover Youth Basketball League Intermediate Division, as the Crimson rocked Dartmouth 52-26 and the Crusaders cuffed Boston College 34-21 in action at the West Junior High gym last week.

In the third game, Villanova withstood a furious fourth quarter rally by North Carolina State to chalk up a 39-37 triumph.

Harvard and Holy Cross both stand at 6-1 overall, while Boston College retains an outside shot at the title with a 4-3 record.

Chris Poor remains atop the individual scoring race with 104 points, and following in order are John Perry with 92, Matt Gibson 60, Steve Redgate 55, Peter Derba 52, Kurt Burzlaff 49, Chris Colsia 48, Eric Goodman 41, Andy Lascher 41 and Tim Higgins 38.

Holy Cross, 34-21

The hot Crusaders, fresh off their victory over Harvard, jumped out to an 18-8 halftime lead against Boston College and traded baskets with the Eagles over the final two quarters.

Chris Colsia was the game-high marksman for HC, pocketing 15 points including 13 of the Crusaders' 16 points in the second half.

Eric Goodman also hit double figures with 10 points, while Joe Hurley contributed 5 and John Twomey 4.

Brian Lannan and Dave Pickney also played well for Holy Cross.

Andy Lascher led the answering fire for Boston College, hitting the twine for 10 points, while Jamie Clarke and Kurt Burzlaff did their scoring in the second half with 4 and 3 points respectively.

Mark Russell and Sean Sullivan popped in single fieldgoals for BC, whose other leaders included Andy Pauline, Jonathan Butt, Jim Tracy and John Glynn.

Harvard, 52-26

The Crimson, apparently angered by their first loss the previous week, retained their share of the top with a convincing 52-26 romp over Dartmouth (3-4).

Steve Redgate poured through 10 first quarter points, while Nick Coon added four and Chris Sapuppo three, as Harvard raced to a commanding 17-2 lead.

Coon added seven more and John Perry six in the second period, boosting the Crimson to a 30-12 halftime cushion, and then Harvard outscored the Big Green 22-14 in the second half. Three sharpshooters did the bulk of the damage for the winners, Perry and Redgate pumping through 16 points apiece and Coon 15.

Sapuppo finished the game with 3 points, Sue Grogan netted a fourth quarter fieldgoal, and other Harvard hustlers were John Dorsey, Chris Nelson, Lisa Horgan and Matt Dorsey.

Matt Gibson and Scott Powers shared team-high point honors for Dartmouth with 8 each, Steve Napolitano and Tim Higgins added 4 apiece, and Mark Duncan swished a second quarter floor shot.

Chris Hekimian, Jeff Hurley, Steve Mencis and

Jon Daly also played well for the Big Green.

Villanova, 39-37

Pesky North Carolina State, paced by Chris Poor's eight points, bolted to an 8-0 first quarter lead against Villanova.

The Wildcats pulled into an 18-18 halftime deadlock and, with Poor resting on the bench in the third period, Villanova took a 33-22 lead with Dave Vickers and Pete Derba igniting the attack.

Poor and Jim Flowers, with nine and six points respectively, sparked a 15-6 fourth period rally that brought the Wolfpack back to within two points in this exciting contest.

Derba led seven Villanova players into the scoring column with 15 points, while Vickers and Patrick Burns pumped through 8 apiece.

Joey Tavilla chalked up 4 points, Dave Noyes stuffed a first quarter basket, and single free throws were converted by Mark Tucker and Greg Kinsky.

Division scoring leader Chris Poor led all sharpshooters with 23 points for N. C. State, while Jim Flowers contributed 10, Kyle Hovious 2 and Eric Tatro 2.

Andover PeeWee A's Keep On Flying

Andover 4 - Methuen 4

Again Andover provided their fans with another thriller as they continued on their unbeaten streak. Chris Hansberry moved flawlessly on goal as did his partner. James Berberian, when he was challenged with a penalty shot. Berberian made a dive to the left to stop the shot thus saving his team's hopes for a victory.

Within the first minute of play, Andover opened the scoring with Joe Lyons setting up Steve Donovan who put the puck in with a hard wrist shot.

The play seemed to be dominated by Andover with defensemen, Pat Breen, Pete Trede, Mark Neaves and Chris Sapuppo, playing heads-up hockey. Dave Riddiford, Tom Tormey, Matt Young and Glenn Allard hustled hard. Mark Berberian scored when he came around from behind the net to sneak the puck by the goalie. Methuen scored the next four goals to go ahead 4 to 2, but Andover persevered.

Kyle McCabe came up with the puck and backhanded a direct shot on the target. Mark Berberian tapped it in for a score rekindling the determination of this group of young men. As the scoreboard showed 4 to 3, Andover became even more fired up. In the final minutes of the game, Mark scored the tie-up goal. He had a well deserved hat trick and his team continues to roll.

Andover 4 - Worcester4

In Danvers, the PeeWee As played against a very strong Worcester team and found themselves down by two goals. Pat Breen got the rally going when he seemed to be everywhere making just the right play. Mark Neaves, Tom Tormey, Peter Trede and Joe Lyons made some outstanding plays keeping the team in the game.

Dave Riddiford started a play as he took a slapshot from the blue line. Before the goalie could deflect it, Glenn Allard tipped it by the goalie for goal number one.

In the second period, the action stayed tense with both teams battering the goalie with shots. Kyle McCabe stickhandled across the front of the net and backhanded a firm shot in by the surprised goalie to tie the game 2 to 2.

Worcester never stopped trying and scored in spite of superb goaltending by James Berberian and Chris Hansberry.

Matt Young and Mark Berberian kept the puck in the zone.

McCabe took charge again and passed from behind the net to Chris Sapuppo who forcefully made the play and lit the lamp for another tie-up goal. Worcester scored early in the third period, but Andover applied constant offensive pressure. Their efforts paid off with Breen taking a slapshot from the point. The score came when Jamie O'Brien alertly deflected it by the goalie into the net and the red light beamed much the same as the spirit of the team coaches and the fans.

Andover Hockey Association

PeeWee B Wilmington League Andover 1 - Wilmington 1

First period action was fast and furious and Wilmington broke on top in the second minute of play when they were allowed a second shot which just managed to cross the goal line. This seemed to wake the defense up and they dug in to play a strong game. At the eight minute mark, Louis LoPresti, digging in the left corner, sprung the puck up the boards where center Robert Stoltz picked it up and fed a nice pass in front of the net. Doug Bleszinski, on wing, picked it up and slipped it between the Wilmington goalie's legs to tie it up. It looked as if it would be a high-scoring game, but the defense and goalies had other ideas. Chris McAnally, John Leng, Peter Donegan, Mike Nelligan and Dan Hegarty combined to shut off Wilmington's offense for the remainder of the game. What shots they did let in were handled easily by Ian Anderson and Tim Adams who shared goaltending duties.

The second and third periods saw Andover get the better of the play but no breaks. All the lines had their opportunities but no one could put it in the net. Jeff Leonard and Andy Weiner managed to send the puck to Hugh Maginnis and break him in on the Wilmington goalie clean but he hit the post. Chris Boyle, Danny Iandoli and Brian Costello had several strong bids in front of the Wilmington goalie who was up to the task and kept the puck out. The game ended in a 1-1 tie.

Danvers League Andover 2 - Salem 2

Last week in Danvers, Andover took on the number one team who had been previously unbeaten and untied and played very well. First period action was furious and Andover broke out on top. At the nine-minute mark, Mike Nelligan took the puck off a Salem wing and fed a nice pass to Hugh Maginnis who broke in and fired a shot that rebounded off the boards. The puck went in front where Andy Weiner banged it by their goalie to put Andover ahead. Play went back and forth and Salem picked up the tying goal on good work in front of goalie Ian Anderson. Defense picked up for both sides and while each team had its opportunities, no goals were scored. Nelligan, Dan Hegarty, John Leng, Brian Costello and Peter Donegan did a fine job in stopping Salem's rushes. The period ended in a 1-1 tie.

The second period saw play roughen. Salem was continually frustrated by Andover's defense and began taking it out in penalties. While Andover had three power plays, they were not able to beat Salem's goalie. Chris McAnally, Chris Boyle and Danny Iandoli had two good opportunities, but came up short. However, Salem, on its only power play, beat goalie Tim Adams on a second shot with three minutes left in the period.

The third period play was just as exciting as the first two. Andover's defense picked up and managed to shut out Salem's potent offense. Finally, with three minutes left, Maginnis hit Costello at the red line with a nice pass. Costello drew the defensemen and sent a nice pass to Robert Stoltz breaking through the center across the blue line. Stoltz fired a hard wrist shot that beat the goalie to the glove side, thus tying the game at two all. Both sides skated frantically trying to break the score the winner, but to no avail. Andover, while not beating Salem, handed them their first tie of the season.

State Tournament Andover 4 - Amesbury 4

In the opening round of the State Tournament, during school vacation week, Andover was eliminated. As usual, Andover outplayed the opposition, but could not capitalize on numerous scoring opportunities. Andover broke on top at the eight-minute mark when the line of Robert Stoltz, Louis LoPresti and Doug Bleszinski had their first shift. Bleszinski fed the puck up ice to Stoltz, who, along with LoPresti, broke in on the goalie. Stoltz faked a pass which kept the goalie in the center of the net, and then hit the net on the short side. Two minutes later, Amesbury tied it up on a second shot when the defense failed to clear. At the two-minute mark, Stoltz dug the puck out of the left side boards and sent it to the slot where Bleszinski picked it up and beat the Amesbury goalie to put Andover ahead. With a minute left, Amesbury again tied it up on a second shot when Andover's defense again failed to clear. The period ended in a 2-2 tie with Andover enjoying the territorial edge, but getting caught by failing to deny the extra shots on their downed goalie. Ian Anderson stopped all the initial attempts on Andover's goal.

In the second period the defense picked up and both offenses were shut down. Dan Hegarty, Mike Nelligan, Peter Donegan and Chris McAnally thwarted most of Amesbury's attempts. What the let through were handled nicely by goalie Andover for the first half of the period. The line of Hugh Maginnis, Andy Weiner and Jeff Leonard put tremendous pressure on the Amesbury goalie who generally was up to the task and when he wasn't, either his defensemen or the post took up the slack. With four minutes left in the period, Amesbury broke out on top. Again a rebound off of goalie Tim Adams was banged in as the defense failed to clear. Andover came back and tied it at the two-minute mark when Bleszinski broke up ice with Stoltz on a two on one. Bleszinski was met by their defensemen at the blue line and slid the puck to Stoltz who put it, himself and their goalie into the net. The period ended in a 3-3 tie, but Andover was still playing better offensively. It was difficult for the lines to change up at times since they were continually holding the puck in the Amesbury zone.

Amesbury broke on top on the opening faceoff of the third period. Again, goalie Adams made the initial save and the puck was fired by the opposing center over the downed goalie. This seemed to let the wind out of Andover's sails. The skating slowed and, at the ten-minute mark, Amesbury scored again when one of their forwards was allowed to skate around Andover's net and then in front where he tucked it in the corner. Andover's spirits seemed to rise again and play became frenzied. At the seven-minute mark, the line of Chris Boyle, Danny Iandoli and Brian Costello finally clicked. Tough work in the right corner by Costello sent the puck into the slot and center Iandoli banged it past the Amesbury goalie. The offense put on tremendous pressure and had their opportunities. Even when Andover pulled their goalie in the last minute, Amesbury just managed to hang on. In all, this game boiled down to simple mistakes, which when added up, cost the team what could have been a relatively good win.

Mites

Andover 4 - North Andover 3

All the ingredients were there for a classic encounter. The Andover squad, eager to show a return to form, were matched against neighbors and arch-rivals North Andover, running top of the league and unbeaten in their last ten outings. This was Mites' hockey at its very best, with the players of both sides giving everything they had to offer. Spectators, too, were exhausted by the end.

Coach Lou Stella was missing two of his regulars and handled his lines with care. He asked a lot of his players, and he certainly got it. Leading the charge were Brian Lane and Sean Darwin with two goals apiece. Assists went to Peter Arthur (two), Kevin Smith and Brian Lane again. In every case the points were well earned. A special mention should also be made of Colin Nix for his work and contribution in killing off a series of crucial penalties. Kevin Lane and Chris Pothier played solid defensive roles and John Melillo, Stephen Neal and Ryan Moynihan hustled tirelessly for all three periods.

For North Andover Kaub and Sheehan (two) came up with goals, but on this occasion, that still left them one short. Some hectic attacking in the last three minutes, concluding with the goalie out, just could not close the gap.

The final word must go to Andover goalie, Jay Stella, who did everything a father could ask of his son—including saving a penalty shot. Well done, Jay, well done, team, and thanks to North Andover for such an exciting game.

Danvers League

Andover 3 - Masconomet 1

Andover put on good pressure through all three periods of this game. Three minutes into the first period, Chris Boyle got the first of his two goals, picking up a loose puck near the lower circle and firing it in. He and his linemates Brian Costello and Danny Iandoli had a strong game, and put on a fine power play with defensemen Peter Donegan and Chris McAnally.

Andover had to kill off several penalties in this game, and almost everyone contributed to denying Masconomet's chances. Goalies Tim Adams and Ian Anderson did some excellent work, stopping some hard shots and breakaways.

In the second period, Boyle gave Andover some needed breathing room with his second goal, taking a shot from a tough angle, and deflecting it off the goalie's stick into the far corner. Mike Nelligan started the play with a good rush down the left side and a pass into Iandoli, who then got the puck over to Boyle for the shot.

Andover's third goal came while they were on the short end of a 4-on-3 situation. Donegan picked up a loose puck in his own end and banked a pass off the boards to Rob Stoltz, breaking across center ice. Stoltz beat the defense down the ice and put a nice wrist shot by the goalie.

After that, it was a question of holding off several determined Masconomet bids, and Dan Hegarty contributed some good defensive play, as did Hugh Maginnis, Lou LoPresti and Doug Bleszinski. Masconomet's only score came on a scramble in front, when Andover couldn't find the handle and clear the puck and a screen shot from in close slid under and into the net.

The Methuen High School Class of 1947 is planning a 35th reunion to take place in the fall. Class members interested in sharing ideas should contact Barbara (Ravaglia) Deacy, Evelyn (Margerison) Helfrich, Angela (Mauceri) Chiara or Chuck Miville. The next meeting is scheduled for March 2.

We think it's average. At Northwestern Mutual Life, we have 25 insurance agents making well over $220,000 income-a-year. And consider, out top 100 agents averaged over $140,000 last year. In fact, almost half our sales force averaged more than $40,000. Is $30,000 a lot? Come talk to us and we'll show you how our agents make it average.

Luxury Resort Property Affordable Price

Now you can guarantee your family a World Class vacation every year for the rest of your lives for a one time cost only. The Wall Street Journal calls interval ownership "Inflation Proof" and says "It's like paying for tomorrow's vacation with today's dollars."

That's what interval ownership is all about, once you've purchased your unit it's YOURS for whatever period of time you've chosen. You receive a warranty deed in your name and, whenever you visit, you can sell it, loan it to friends or business acquaintances, rent it, will it to your children or grandchildren.

But most exciting of all, you can exchange your unit for a vacation at any one of more than 300 resorts around the world from the Alps to Hawaii, from the Caribbean to Australia, any year you'd like.

We're excited about this concept. We think you will be too.

Call us for the date of our next seminar and we will explain how you can visit one of the resorts we represent — only a pleasant drive away.

THE SWING LOAN

One bugaboo of real estate transactions is a conflict of closing dates. Often, the purchase of a home involves a string of purchases and sales down the road. Here is how a conflict of closing dates could happen:

A buyer who has received a large deposit and a signed sales contract on his home wants to buy your home. For valid reasons of your own, you have to close the sale by June 1st. But the buyer's sale will not close until August 1st. In other words, there is a two month time lag before your buyer can produce the funds needed to buy your home. Does this mean a lost sale? No! An experienced

Realtor can often arrange interim financing or what is known as a "swing loan" for the buyer. The money is advanced by the lending institution on a short term with interest computed daily. The buyer's equity in his present home is the loan security. Properly handled with legal counsel, it could well be the solution.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., ANDOVER. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Foster Homes Sought For Refugee Children

Special foster families for Cambodian and Vietnamese children living in refugee camps in Southeast Asia are again needed. Hundreds of unaccompanied minors still await resettlement in the United States.

Of greatest concern are some 80 to 90 Cambodian children (mostly teenage boys) who want to come to the U.S. and 14 are immediately available. These children will be permitted to come if assurances can be given that there are foster families who want them.

Lutheran Service Association would like to bring 20 of these children to Massachusetts. If possible, LSA would like to arrange to bring all 80 to 90 children to live in New England in geographic clusters, particularly north and west of Boston.

In 1981 LSA helped bring 33 children to Massachusetts, and 29 are currently in placement. Of that total, 15 are Cambodian, 13 are Vietnamese and one is Laotian. Five of the 29 are girls.
